Have you added your contribution to the Plumpton Jubilee Recipe Book yet?

The new Plumpton recipe book combines the themes of Jubilee and Village. We want to include recipes that you remember or associate with events such as;

- the announcement of the accession of Elizabeth II or the Queen's Coronation;
- a Silver or Golden Jubilee event; or
- another royal celebration during the reign of Elizabeth II;
- Or if that stretches the memory too much what about sharing what you would cook if the Queen was coming for a meal with you

And also to give us some information about your choice of recipe (why it was chosen, what memories it holds, what the event was etc).

Clubs and societies can have their "chosen" recipe included. .Or it could be a "special" drink. We need these for the book too!

Contact Glenda Bowden Glendabowden@hotmail.com or Reg Lanaway reglanaway@btinternet.com

Some of the other plans include:

A new wildflower meadow

An exhibition and a book based on the memories of people in Plumpton

The Plumpton House History

The idea is to collect some information about your house e.g. when it was built, perhaps the people who lived there first and what they did, something about who lives there now and any interesting snippets of information.

Displayed at the front of your house over the Jubilee holiday it will become the centre of a fascinating village stroll and afterwards we'll make a book!
